When the correction is made and the papers again reach the War Department they will again be taken up with a view to securing Presi-dential elemency for the young officer.

Lieutenant Brown has always had an excellent record in the army and although a graduate of Vale University, and the law department of the University of Vir-ginia, he collisted as a private in Battery A, of the Fifth Artillery, September 1, 1894. Three years later he passed the reg-ular army examination and was appointed a second if-utenant, since which time he has been promoted to first lieutenant.

WOMAN AIDED A BURGLAR. House Robbed by a Pair Who Traveled on a Tandem.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 29.—The residence of Mrs. Caroline Meyer, at 46 Central Avenue, was robbed Sunday right while the family was away at church. The thieves secured $59 belonging to a boarder, Nelson J. Adams. The money was drawn from a bank last Saturday. The thieves were a man and a woman who were seen riding a tandem in the neighborhood. The woman was dressed in a mar's corduroy knickerbocker suit. The track of a bicycle is visible in an alleyway at the rear of the house and close to the back fence, where the wheel was left while the burglary was done.

frs. Meyer, her daughters, son 1 Mr. Adams left the house 7:15 Sunday night, and went the North Street Methodist Church, Mrs. Meyer and her daughters arrived home first, getting to the house about ten minutes before 2 o'clock. As they neared the house, they thought the saw a light inside, but concluded that i was a reflection from a light in the ad was a reflection from a light in the adjoining house. As they reached the rear of the house, they saw the pair clambering upon a wheel in front.

An examination of the premises showed the imprint of a man's shoe and that of a woman's shoe in the soft ground beneath the windows at the east side of the house. The burglars had evidently tried all of the windows, and, finding that they were all fastened, they turned their attention to the rear window and cut the putty from the glass. The imprint of the bicycle thres was followed from the back of the house to the front. The police think many other burglarles are attributable to the pair.
